TOP TEN PLACES TO ENJOY THE MARATHON

- 1. THE START
 If you've experienced it, nothing more needs to be said! Like no other in the world, as poignant and breathtaking as you'll find. A must!
- 2. BRICKTOWN:
 (Mile 1-2) As runners get settled in, anticipation is high.
- 3. STATE CAPITOL COMPLEX
 (Mile 3) Enter from east side. Gorgeous landscaping, plenty of cheering, revelry, and the stroll around the Capitol is uplifting.
- 4. SPARROW PARK / EDMERE PARK
 (Mile 5-6) Robinson entrance from 36th; notable stonping grounds for runners, historic neighborhoods, room to view from east side of park.
- 5. CROWN HEIGHTS
 (Mile 6-7) 38th and Shartel; just beyond 1st relay handoff. Continues promenade thru wonderful neighborhoods. Half and full marathoners getting settled in; seeing faces appreciated.
- 6. NICHOLS HILLS / WAVERLY AVE
 Between Wilshire and Britton (Mile 11). From here runners are well spread out and easy to view. Festive neighborhood atmosphere always abounds: these folks are used to runners zooming by, and appreciate the efforts.
- 7. NICHOLS HILLS / GRAND BLVD
 (Mile 19-20) Park at Nichols Hills Plaza or lot at 63rd and Grand. Can get very near course and see how race is unfolding, and easily proceed downtown for finish.
- 8. CLASSEN BLVD
 Between 63rd and 50th (Mile 20-21). Starts enduring stretch on Classen and 20-mile mark. Important psychologically for runners to have support.
- 9. 18TH AND CLASSEN
 (Mile 23-24) Just before turn east towards Broadway Avenue and finish. Historic Mesta Park greets spectators and runner, and leads to one of older, most scenic neighborhood venues - Heritage Hills. Witness what runners are feeling this late in the marathon, and urge them to the finish. Crowd fervor begins to swell, and runners know it, as they know they're coming close.
- 10. FINISH
 12th and Broadway Avenue on South to the finish at 7th. Seeing the mass of humanity on the straightaway, finishing to enthusiastic crowds. Every emotion imaginable: awe, empathy, accomplishment can be witnessed and shared. This must cap your day off!
